A MECHANIC found with 58 wraps of crack and heroin up his BUM said he strayed into drug dealing to cope with having to pay for his mum's funeral.
Tyrone Grimes, 25, was found with the Class A drugs after being arrested by police in Widnes, Cheshire. Officers spotted him trying to carry out a suspected drug deal and discovered his secret botty-stash during a search.

Liz rips into Europe over legal threat

FOREIGN Secretary Liz Truss said there was "no reason" for the European Union to retaliate against the UK after plans to tear up the Northern Ireland Protocol caused outrage in Brussels and capitals across the continent.

Ireland's Foreign Affairs Minister Simon Coveney warned the Government's move could "destabilise" the situation in Northern Ireland.

The UK faces legal action from Brussels after the move to override large parts of the international deal.

But Ms Truss said: "Our solution doesn't make the EU any worse off. We've got strong enforcement to make sure companies aren't violating the rules."

"So there is absolutely no reason why the EU should react in a negative way to what we're doing."

Wages fail to match inflation

BRITONS have seen rises in their pay packets fall behind soaring inflation at a record pace as the cost-of-living crisis tightens its grip on UK households.

The Office for National Statistics revealed wages plunged by 4.5% in April – the biggest fall since records began.

It comes as inflation has jumped to a 40-year high of 9% due to soaring energy and fuel bills.

The ONS data showed that regular pay fell 3% after the impact of inflation – the biggest fall since November 2011 – despite a 4.2% rise in average earnings.

AT WAR: Salmond and FM Sturgeon

FORMER Scotland first minister Alex Salmond has challenged his successor to reveal how she will "bend Westminster to the will of the Scottish Parliament" and persuade Boris Johnson to permit another ballot on independence to be held.

Mr Salmond spoke out as Nicola Sturgeon prepared to launch the first of a new series of papers designed to form a case for independence.

But he said without detail of how the UK Government could be made to change its mind and allow a referendum, any debate about Scotland's future would take place in a "constitutional vacuum".

The question of how another referendum could be held without Westminster support is crucial as the Scottish Government prepares for a second vote – which Ms Sturgeon has said will take place before the end of 2023.

Mr Salmond stood down as first minister in 2014 in the wake of Scots voting to stay part of the UK.

Since then Mr Salmond's relationship with Ms Sturgeon has soured, and he has gone on to set up his own rival pro-independence Alba Party.

Mr Salmond said: "Everyone across the Yes movement is galvanised by the fact that the starting gun has been fired on another independence test."

"They should explain the strategy by which they intend to bend Westminster to the will of the Scottish Parliament to agree a referendum."

"Without that we run the risk of conducting a debate in a constitutional vacuum."

Starmer too boring to be PM

MEMBERS of Sir Keir Starmer's shadow cabinet have warned the Labour leader that he is "boring voters to death" as a separate poll revealed voters feel he is "bland but honest".

Shadow cabinet members fear the former lawyer is yet to impose his political vision on the party since taking over as leader in 2020.

They are urging him to make clear his priorities before the party conference in the autumn.

One shadow cabinet minister said: "Is he exciting? No, of course not – that isn't why we ended up with him. But there is a big difference between not being Mr Razzmatazz and boring everyone to death..."

A second added: "There's no energy or direction from his team. We don't need a full manifesto but we do need a big vision, clear priorities and a bold offer. What are they waiting for?"

Starmer's deputy Angela Rayner criticised his lacklustre public performances, saying the leader needs to "put more welly into it".

New vote on railway strike

THOUSANDS more railway workers are to be balloted for strikes in escalating disputes which threaten travel chaos this summer.

The Transport Salaried Staffs Association has served notice to ballot more than 6,000 staff at Network Rail in a dispute over pay, conditions and jobs.

Members of the Rail, Maritime and Transport union at Network Rail and 13 train operators are to strike for three days next week in similar disputes, which will cause huge disruption to services.

The RMT and Unite are also striking on London Underground on June 21, the same day as the first rail strike, in a separate row over jobs and pay.

BORIS BASHES THE BISHOP

ON THE ATTACK: Johnson

ALWAYS No1 FOR POLITICS

PM attacks Rwanda critics

BORIS Johnson attacked critics of the plan to send asylum seekers to Rwanda ahead of the first flight to the African nation.

The plans have been challenged in court and condemned by Church of England senior bishops led by the Archbishop of Canterbury and reportedly by the Prince of Wales, with the Prime Minister acknowledging there had been criticism from "some slightly unexpected quarters".

But he insisted the Government would not be deterred by the attacks "not least from lawyers"

By COLIN HURST

news@sundaysport.co.uk

and told his Cabinet ministers that "we are going to get on and deliver" the plan.

Mr Johnson said there was a "huge amount of attack" aimed at the policy.

Criminal

"What is happening with the attempt to undermine the Rwanda policy is that they're undermining everything we're trying to do to support safe and legal routes to the UK and oppose illegal and dangerous routes."

"That is what we are trying to do, that is the essence of our policy. And I think that what the criminal gangs are doing and what those who effectively are abetting the work of the criminal gangs are doing is undermining people's confidence in the safe and legal system, undermining people's general acceptance of immigration."

The PM added: "We are not going to be deterred by some of the criticism that is being directed upon this policy, some of it from slightly unexpected quarters."

"We are going to get on and deliver."

"The objective is to ensure that we make that clear distinction, that I think everybody can see is fair and reasonable, between legal immigration to this country by safe and legal routes, from dangerous and illegal cross-Channel migration which we intend to stop."

FUEL PRICE SOARS AGAIN

FUEL prices hit new records as the Government scrapped £1,500 grants for new electric cars.

The average price of a litre of petrol at UK forecourts reached a whopping new high of 185.4p on Monday, according to data firm Experian.

That is an increase of 6.9p in just a week.

The average price of diesel was a record 191.2p per litre on Monday.

The figures were released just hours after the Department for Transport (DfT) axed the Plug-in Car Grant for electric vehicles. Drivers could previously use the scheme to claim up to £1,500 towards the cost of a plug-in car costing less than £32,000.

The decision to kill off the grant for cars sparked an angry response from the automotive industry, but the DfT said it will "refocus" funding to encourage users of other vehicles to make the switch to electric.

The Competition and Markets Authority announced on Monday that it will carry out a "short and focused review" of fuel prices after a request by Business Secretary Kwasi Kwarteng.

Mr Kwarteng said drivers are "rightly frustrated" that the 5p per litre cut in fuel duty implemented by the Treasury in March has not stopped prices from soaring.

Lenny 'surprised' by black no-show at Glastonbury

SIR Lenny Henry has said it is "interesting" to see the apparent lack of black people in the audience at Glastonbury Festival.

The actor and comedian, 63, also said he was "surprised" by the lack of diverse faces at festivals in the UK generally.

Discussing diversity and places where different groups do not mix, he said: "It's interesting to watch Glastonbury and look at the audience and not see any black people there."

Speaking to Clive Myrie for Radio Times, the comedian (above) said: "I'm always surprised by the lack of black and brown faces at festivals. I think, 'Wow, that's still very much a dominant culture thing'."

Glastonbury takes place next week at Worthy Farm in Somerset, celebrating its 50th anniversary after being delayed by the pandemic.

As Dame Emma claims lads expect anal...

NO
...says Susie Summers, 32FF, from Peterborough

HOW many times have lovers asked if they can put it up my booty?

I've lost count. Just what is the obsession with anal?

As far as I'm concerned, I've got a perfectly usable hole for sex... It's called my fanny.

I've never done it and never will.

I've seen anal in porno videos, of course.

To me, it looks a bit painful.

It's terrible that young girls think they need to serve up their arses on a platter.

WHO'S UP FOR BUM SEX?

'DISTURBING': Thompson

The actress, 63, has spoken out about the "easy access" to pornography and the pressure on girls ahead of the release of her new sex-worker inspired film Good Luck To You, Leo Grande, co-starring Daryl McCormack.

Dame Emma said: "I think some things are worse when I hear stories in schools about boys and what they expect from girls - and I mean that the easy access to porn, so anal sex is because it's so freely available to watch in porn."

"If you talk to young people about their sexual knowledge and what they expect and what they think sex is, it can be very disturbing indeed.

"I think it can interfere with their sexual development because it's all been taken away, industrialised and fed back to them in a completely un-indigestible form."

It's true that, once upon a time, bum sex was a rare treat available only to husbands on special occasions.

But now it's everywhere!

Is that a good thing, though?

We spoke to two Sport models to ask what they think of taboo love!

YES

...says Stella Cox, 32D, from Reading, Berks

GET it in my arse, get it in hard and don't stop until you've come!

I absolutely LOVE anal sex.

A boyfriend introduced me to it when I was just 18.

He started by slipping a well-lubricated finger up there and I knew I was hooked.

The fact it is a bit naughty and a bit taboo just makes it all the more pleasurable.

I love to play with my clit while a lover has his big, hard cock wedged up my bum.

And, yes, I do have squirting orgasms through anal.

Before you ask, yes, I do anal on a first date. It's my favourite thing and if a guy is not prepared to f**k me up the arse, he won't be around for long.

Britney's 55-hour hubby 'stalked her at wedding'

A MAN once married to singer Britney Spears – for 55 hours – has been charged with felony stalking after showing up unannounced during her wedding to Sam Asghari.

Jason Alexander, 40, pleaded not guilty to the charge, as well as to trespassing, battery and vandalism.

He was arrested last week after allegedly gatecrashing and streaming a video from inside Spears' home.

Alexander was briefly married to the pop star (above), a childhood friend, in 2004.

But the union was annulled after less than three days.

Spears, 40, and her longtime partner Asghari, 28, tied the knot in an intimate ceremony in California last week.

But preparations were disrupted when Alexander was arrested after allegedly gatecrashing.

He streamed a video, apparently from inside the singer's home, before being tackled by security.

Kids' obesity a 'perfect storm' for poor health

SOARING obesity levels among children have led to a "concerning climb" in the number diagnosed with type 2 diabetes, a charity has said.

Diabetes UK warned the cost-of-living crisis could lead to further problems in years ahead.

High levels of obesity and a squeeze on personal finances are creating a "perfect storm" which risks irreversible harm to the health of young people, the charity warned.

It accused the government of "letting our children down" as it called for concerted action to tackle obesity.

Demand for care for those with type 2 diabetes at paediatric diabetes units across England and Wales has increased by more than 50% in the last five years, the charity's analysis says.

AND if you don't stop giggling, I'll put your saddle back on...

Yes, the weekend saw the World Naked Bike Ride back in full swing after the pandemic.

In Fancy London there were a total of nine separate rides, with around 1,000 people taking part.

There was another ride in Brighton and one in Manchester.

In the main, the rides were attended by middle-aged men who, with the best will in the world, did not make an altogether alluring spectacle.

But there were a smattering of lovely ladies pedalling in the altogether.

One spectator said: "It's quite a skill to have a quick one over the thumb watching one of the few ladies."

The World Naked Bike Ride is not just a chance for odd men to show their private parts in public without getting arrested. There is a serious side to the ride...

Something about the environment, etc, as far as we can tell.

Snoop Dogg's pay hike for blunt roller

RAPPER Snoop Dogg says he's supplying his full-time personal blunt roller with more dough because of sky-high inflation.

The Drop It Like It's Hot artist and avid weed smoker replied to a tweet from the account UberFacts that said his employee rolls in between $40,000 and $50,000 yearly.

"Inflation. Their salary went up!!" he wrote.

Snoop, 50, later reposted a tweet that said "Employers: Take notes from @SnoopDog" in reference to the pay raise.

Appearing on Howard Stern's radio show in 2019, Snoop revealed he has a staffer whose only job is to roll him blunts when he wants to light up.

"That's his J-O-B, his occupation," Snoop (above) said.

"On his résumé it says 'what do you do' 'I'm a blunt roller,' P-B-R, professional blunt roller."

A blunt is a hollowed-out cigar that's re-filled with cannabis.

Winston Hagans was convicted in Auburn, Alabama, on a warrant signed by Rev Tom Ford, the father of Hannah Ford, who died in a car crash in January 2021 around a month after becoming engaged to Hagans.

Evidence showed that Hagans repeatedly put small planter boxes with flowers on Hannah's grave and her father repeatedly removed them.

Rev Ford said he "certainly did not" approve of the relationship between his daughter and Hagans.

Hagans was also given a 30-day jail sentence that was suspended on the condition he doesn't place additional flowers on the grave.

A TEACHER was arrested after allegedly sexting with a student and trying to sneak him into her home while her husband was away, police said.

Julie Hoover, 38, a mathematics teacher at Point of Grace Christian High School in Perry, Florida, was charged with one count of an authority figure soliciting or engaging in sex with a student after allegedly exchanging explicit messages with an 18-year-old senior student.

Police were notified by the student's mother on June 2 after she found text messages between Hoover and the teenager that were exchanged in March and April.

The mother told cops Hoover was arranging for her son to come to her home while her husband was at work.

Hoover (above) was released from custody on bail.

Robbers' £3,400 bottle of brandy was fake decoy

COPS are hunting three men caught on camera robbing what they thought was a £3,400 bottle of posh brandy... which was, in fact, a cheap decoy.

Houston Police Department in Texas says three unidentified black males crowded around a locked display case of alcohol in a liquor store.

The men reportedly asked about a $4,200 bottle in the case and a store employee unlocked the case.

One of the men then grabbed the bottle while another grabbed another box of the same liquor.

The store says the box, which the man dropped before exiting, was empty and the bottle that was taken was a decoy bottle that was worth far less than £3,400.

The three men are still at large.

THE ten most common things people say straight after sex have been revealed in a new survey.

Women are most likely to say 'You're amazing!' while men's top comment was 'Wow!'

But no woman admitted to asking the crushing: 'Is that it?'

The results are revealed in a new survey by IllicitEncounters.com, the UK's leading affairs site.

The responses from men and women in the post-coital glow show sharp differences in their attitudes to sex.

Second on the female list was 'don't go to sleep' – reflecting research showing half of men go straight to sleep after sex compared to just a quarter of women.

In third place was 'give me a cuddle', in fourth place was 'I love being with you' and fifth was the less romantic 'Where's my phone?'

Climax

Second place on the male list was 'When can we do that again?'

Third place was 'I've got to go' – mirroring research showing that a third of men (34%) and a similar number of women (32%) prefer to be on their own once they have had sex.

Men saying 'I needed that' was in fourth place. In fifth place was the question 'Did you have an orgasm?'

Statistics show only a third of women climax during intercourse, compared to 90% of men.

CEMETERY FLASHER'S £200 COMPO HIT

A PERVERT has been ordered to pay £200 compo to a victim after exposing his genitals at a cemetery.

Numan Qadir, 29, of Lozells, West Midlands, was arrested and charged after the incident at Handsworth Cemetery.

He admitted a count of exposure under the Sexual Offences Act.

It stated: "At Handsworth Cemetery in the West Midlands intentionally exposed your genitals intending that someone would see

The case had been hit by a number of setbacks at Birmingham Magistrates' Court.

It had previously been adjourned in order for the probation service to interview Qadir and produce a pre-sentence report recommending a suitable punishment.

The court also sentenced Qadir to a community order, including up to 30 days of rehabilitation activities.

A bevy of reality star beauties have stripped to their lingerie on social media.

Maura Higgins, Demi Sims and Olivia Attwood are among the celebs to don suspenders in the sexy snaps, getting their followers hot under the collar.

Love Island beauty Maura delighted her followers when she posed in a lace black lingerie set, with suspenders and stockings completing the jaw-dropping look.

Olivia Attwood dropped to her knees (oo-er, missus) in front of impressive floor-to-ceiling windows to show off her bright blue underwear.

Meanwhile, Amber Turner thrilled followers as she posed in black lingerie, complete with susses.

As you know, we need little excuse to run a feature of babes in suspenders, so here's five sexy pages...

'HOMOSEXUALS MUST BE PUT DOWN'

VILE thug Peter Avsenew felt it was his mission in life to exterminate homosexuals – a sickening quest that made him 'proud'.

And, after boasting about his exploits in a letter to his trial judge, he even flipped the middle finger to bereaved family members as he was handed a death sentence...

TWISTED Peter Avsenew lived in the quiet Florida community of Wilton Manors, Fort Lauderdale.

It's an affluent area known as a 'gay district' – popular with same-sex couples – that's also filled with parks and museums and popular with tourists.

But for Avsenew, the people who resided there represented everything he detested.

In 2010 he posted an ad on the popular website Craigslist, advertising his services as a male escort.

He got a reply from an adventurous couple – Stephen Adams, 52, and Kevin Powell, 47, partners who had been together for 30 years.

But 'escorting' was the last thing on Avsenew's mind.

As he entered their home he shot them both repeatedly in the head with a handgun, before stealing their credit cards and car and leaving them to bleed to death.

By KOURTNEY KENNEDY

Avsenew, who already boasted an extensive criminal record, was eventually shipped to police by his own mother, Jeanne.

And despite Avsenew initially pleading his innocence, once convicted he soon showed his true colours.

In a letter to Broward Circuit Judge Ilona Holmes, Avsenew said: "It is my duty as a white man to cull the weak and timid from existence."

"I will always stand up for what I believe and eradicate anything in my way."

"Homosexuals are a disgrace to mankind and must be put down. These weren't the first and won't be the last."

"I must secure an existence for white people and a future for white children.

"You will never stop me."

In a further rant in court, he added: "There is nothing that can hurt me now. I have no consequences for my actions. I plan on hurting people."

"I wholeheartedly have nothing to lose and I'm going to take it out on everybody I can."

"What is a life in prison? There is none."

"I'd rather just kill people and be by myself. It's much easier."

He even sounded off about his killing prowess in front of stunned family members.

Hatred

He laughed: "It's really easy to talk someone into teaching them jiu jitsu, putting them in a choke and just holding on too long and there's nothing they can do about it."

"Only takes about six seconds."

In the face of such overwhelming hatred, in January this year Judge Holmes handed Avsenew the death penalty.

If anyone expected a show of remorse, they didn't get one.

Instead, sick Avsenew chortled, smirked and then gave the middle finger to the grieving friends and family of Stephen Adams and Kevin Powell.

Stephen's disgusted sisters, Marci Craig and Missi Badgett, said: "We know that justice was served."

"I knew he was making that gesture to us. I said to my husband right away, 'He just flipped us off'."

Avsenew, now 33, is the glaring result of a grim life.

In his defence he claimed to have been sexually abused by a stepfather and then thrown into turmoil when his sister was murdered.

Growing up, Avsenew was a bad apple well

MUM WITH A CONSCIENCE:
Jeanne Avsenew testified against her own son known to local cops. He had convictions for vehicle theft, robbery, grand theft and fraud.

He also had pleaded no contest to marijuana possession, criminal mischief and resisting an officer.

Stephen and Kevin, meanwhile, had been loved by all who met them.

The couple had also been through their own hardships. Kevin was a lifelong diabetic who had just got over double organ transplant surgery.

Stephen, a nurse, had been caring for his partner.

Kevin's distraught brother, Shannon Kicklighter, said at the time of the slayings: "They had been together for years and years."

"They took care of each other. They were loving partners."

"We were an extended family. We are just heartbroken."

Avsenew, a father of one, had only just been released from prison when he decided to kill.

Shocking

In a Facebook post in July 2010, he wrote: "Today is the first day of the rest of my life and I am going to make it count. I am free and coming home."

"Robbie, Daddy loves you – and I am going to prove it to everyone."

By December of that year, however, Avsenew was covered in blood trying to clean up a crime scene – having committed one of the most shocking murders Florida has ever witnessed.

It started when Avsenew placed an advert online claiming to be a male escort.

Prosecutors said there was no evidence that he actually worked as a prostitute at any time.

Instead, it appears to have been a simple ruse to enter Stephen and Kevin's home on December 23, 2010, and commit carnage.

The victims were shot 'multiple times' with a .25-calibre handgun.

They also suffered horrific trauma to their heads after they were

NO REMORSE:

of his victims

SHOT IN

Adams
and Kevin

COLD: Killer's mugshot

mercilessly bludgeoned. Their bodies were discovered three days later when concerned family members realised that neither Stephen nor Kevin were turning up for Christmas get-togethers.

Avsenew fled the scene and drove the couple's car to his mother's home in nearby Polk County.

His mother, Jeanne, told investigators that she suggested her son take a hot shower when he turned up as he appeared "agitated and upset".

According to the search warrant, after he had finished bathing Avsenew told his mother: "Yeah, finally I got the smell of bleach off me."

Fight

Investigators said they had found bleach at the crime scene.

Avsenew had used it to try to clean the blood from the walls and floor.

He also told his mother that he had "done something really bad" – but that she shouldn't worry because he had covered his tracks.

He alluded to getting into a fight and told her "they got what they deserved".

While blood may be thicker than water in most cases, unlike her son, Jeanne clearly had a conscience.

She promptly called police and tipped them off about what her son had "confessed" to her.

Avsenew was quickly rounded up by cops and taken in for questioning.

Jeanne later testified against the boy she had brought into the world initially said he had "borrowed".

Jeanne added: "I said, 'Is the car stolen? You told me it wasn't stolen, that your friend gave you this car'."

"He said, 'I lied!' "I told him he was making me an accessory to whatever he had done."

"He just laughed and said, 'Don't worry about it'."

Slaying

"I obviously knew something was wrong."

Jeanne also noticed that her son was checking the computer frequently.

When she was finally able to see what he was looking at, she was shocked.

She explained: "There was a thing – Peter was a person of interest in a slaying in Wilton Manors.

"I saw his picture, I saw the car in the background that was in front of my house."

"It said they were looking for Peter Avsenew as a person of interest."

"I raced over to a friend's house and told her what was going on and what I had seen on the computer."

"She said the only thing I could do was call the police. I called 911."

On December 3, 2017, Avsenew was found guilty of double murder.

And, while Stephen's sisters Missi and Marci said they had 'forgiven' Avsenew, they were still deeply troubled by his lack of remorse.

Missi said: "It was hard on our parents. We lost our dad two years ago, but he told us we had to forgive Peter."

"He still has a grin on his face as of today. How can you sit there and show no remorse?"

Avsenew was handed his death sentence in January this year.

But spare a thought for his mum, Jeanne.

She says she has "mixed feelings" about the fact her son will now be put to death by the state – largely based on her own evidence.

"I'm troubled by that," she said.

"I know he doesn't want to spend the rest of his life in prison."

As she made her way out of the courtroom, Jeanne Avsenew looked to her son but made no gestures.

Peter Avsenew looked back and said nothing in return.

BRAIN-EATING CANNIBAL APPEALS AGAINST LIFE SENTENCE

Lawyers claim he's bonkers

SICKO: Oberhansley murdered Tammy Jo

A MAN convicted of murdering and dismembering his ex-girlfriend before partially eating her BRAIN is appealing his sentence of life in prison without the possibility of parole.

Lawyers representing Joseph Oberhansley, 41, have filed a brief with the Supreme Court of Indiana seeking to have the court vacate his sentence and remand his case back to the trial court to impose a specific term of years due to his severe mental illness.

A Clark County jury in September 2020 found Oberhansley guilty on one count of murder and one count of burglary in connection with the horrific slaying of his former girlfriend Tammy Jo Blanton, 46, in her own home in 2014.

He is currently being held at Indiana's Castle Psychiatric Unit.

Mutilated

Cops found Blanton's body in the bathtub. She had been stabbed several times in the head, neck and chest.

Her body had also been heavily mutilated. The front portion of her skull, a portion of her brain, lung and most of her heart had also been removed.

During a subsequent interview with police, Oberhansley "revealed to the detectives that he ate Tammy's brain" and also "tried to pull the 'third eye' out with tongs," police wrote.

He also admitted to eating the organs that he had removed from Blanton.

The 49-page appeal notes that Oberhansley was "operating under an extreme emotional or mental disturbance when he killed Tammy" and was suffering from "active delusions".

A psychologist testified at trial that he was "the most severely mentally ill person whose case she had reviewed," Oberhansley's attorney wrote.

"It would be easy to look at the horrors visited upon Tammy and conclude they were simply the actions of a monster. But doing so would be reductive and this Court must consider his actions in the context of his profound mental illness," defense attorney Cara Schaefer Wieneke wrote.

JUSTIN DUNN'S ROOM 101

WHAT'S ANNOYING HIM THIS WEEK?

COVID... it's just an excuse for the workshy

MY missus woke up one morning in May last year to find she'd gone completely deaf.

Not a bit deaf.

Not "water in my ears" deaf.

Actually deaf.

As in 'burst a balloon next to her for comedy purposes and she won't even flinch' style deaf.

Since then, she's had a cochlear implant fitted inside her skull to assist her with electronic hearing.

It's quite brilliant but has, however, cost us a small fortune in taxis and train fares and buses and hotel rooms because we don't live in north Wales.

But we're just about near enough to make it our "local" cochlear implant team for adults.

Yes, we live in the north. Pretty much certain that in London, there's probably a cochlear implant team at the end of every street.

It'll be right next to the sparkly defibrillator unit and the actual open bank branch and the brand spanking new multi-zillion pound Tube station they've just opened. Again.

We weren't just coping with one of us unable to hear.

We were also coping with her not being able to work while our outgoings went through the roof.

So we did as we were advised and applied for a Personal Independence Payment.

It's essentially financial help with covering the ever-increasing travel costs of to-ing and fro-ing to a different country because similar services in our actual locality are non-existent.

That was in February.

On the day of typing this, it's June 13, and the best the poor sods who man the phonebanks can tell me is that my missus's claim is "in the hands of the assessors".

Oh, and that her claim will be assessed "as soon as possible".

But... it's been four months now.

How long is this queue, I asked?

"Well... COVID...", came the pathetic reply.

What about COVID?

The rest of the country has moved on but, if you take the public shilling, apparently it's still rampant and everyone everywhere is dying from it.

Except, they aren't, are they? Once thought of as a modern-day black plague, the dreaded lurgy is now reduced to an irritating sniffle.

Unless you're on the Government payroll.

Then it's an iron-clad excuse to "work from home", clad in cardboard-thick pyjamas and no doubt surrounded by half-eaten hotdogs and your cousin's Netflix account log-in.

Please, I said to the girl I spoke to, tell me this claim hasn't been outsourced to Capita, the never-endingly criticised private firm that gets so many governmental contracts.

"It is Capita, yes," she replies.

This is a firm so bad, so useless, so permanently under the spotlight, that Private Eye magazine often refers to it as Crapita.

And so, obviously, I got absolutely nowhere.

We're just in a queue.

But we have no idea how long that queue is.

Or how long we're even expected to be in it.

This is nothing whatsoever to do with COVID.

And it's nothing to do with Brexit.

It's absolutely everything to do with our so-called Civil Service.

Some of them are clearly f**king useless, lazy, workshy twats.

If they're not going back to work, sack the whole bloody lot of them.

LATELY I can't stop lusting after some lesbian action.

I'm really into hot Latina looking girls... dark hair, curvy figures, big boobs, peachy bottoms and full luscious lips.

Eva Longoria, Jennifer Lopez and Shakira are absolutely beautiful.

I'm straight but definitely bi-curious and I've snogged a few women, just for a giggle, when tipsy playing a game of truth or dare.

I would love to be seduced properly by a girl. I'm very tempted to go to a gay club and pull, or be pulled!

I've been on Tinder and flirted with a few lesbians.

Whenever I watch porn I'm always transfixed most by the woman's body. They are such a thing of beauty!

And I'm dying to see if it's true that girls can go down on you the best because they really understand a woman's body better than a guy.

I've promised myself I'll find out this year. Who knows, maybe once you go lesbo you don't go back again!

'Offensive' mountain is Doane for

A MOUNTAIN has been renamed... because it was politically incorrect.

The National Park Service announced that Mount Doane in the famed Yellowstone National Park would be rechristened "First Peoples Mountain".

The agency said the change removed an "offensive name" from America's first national park.

The Wyoming mountain (above) stands at 10,551 feet and was previously named after explorer Gustavus Doane, who was appointed mayor in Yazoo City, Mississippi, in 1867.

The National Park Service said Doane led an attack on a band of Piegan Blackfeet in 1870, in response to the alleged murder of a white fur trader.

"During what is now known as the Marias Massacre, at least 173 American Indians were killed, including many women, elderly Tribal members and children suffering from smallpox. Doane wrote fondly about this attack and bragged about it for the rest of his life," the agency wrote.

Elephant trampled woman, then tossed her body at funeral

A 70-YEAR-OLD woman was trampled to death by an elephant... and her corpse was then bizarrely attacked by the same beast at her funeral.

Cops said Maya Murmu had been fetching water from a well in the eastern Indian state of Odisha when an elephant charged at her.

The tusked pachyderm had apparently escaped from the Dalma Wildlife Sanctuary.

The elephant trampled the woman, who died of her injuries in hospital.

Murmu's family were then performing her last rites before lighting a funeral pyre when the same elephant allegedly returned and grabbed her body.

The animal threw the corpse in the air and then ran away.

CELEBS GO WILD FOR 'OPTICAL ILLUSION' NIPPLE FROCKS FAKE BOOBS!

BELLA THORNE

KYLIE JENNER

WE love it when celebs wear a frock that gives us a sneak peek at their busters.

But a new trend allows fashionistas to show off their bits... without revealing anything.

The so-called "nude illusion" frocks give onlookers the idea that they can see right through lasses' frocks.

But really, the nips you can see are, in fact, printed on the outside of the dress.

Hitmaker Iggy Azalea showcased her famous figure in a slinky dress as she celebrated her 32nd birthday last week.

The Fancy rapper left little to the imagination in the skintight frock, which featured a nude illusion print design.

But some fans were confused by her provocative attire.

"Don't get me wrong, you're beautiful

By JAYNE FERGUSON

but the outfit leaves nothing to the imagination,' wrote one.

While another added: 'The dress looks too real. I'm confused.'

Actress and OnlyFans star Bella Thorne stepped out in the illusion frock at the Los Angeles screening of Morbidity, drawing gasps from onlookers who thought she'd turned up basically naked.

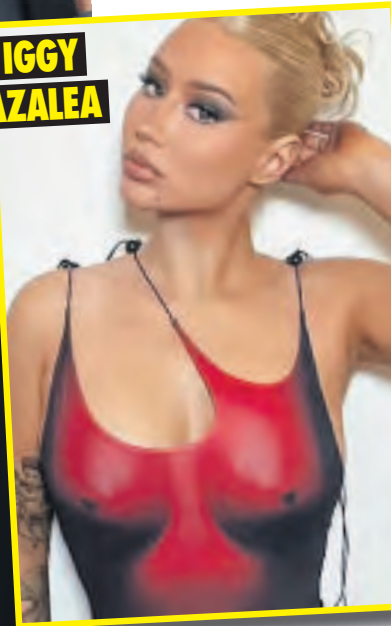

But top marks for realism has to go to sexy reality star Kylie Jenner.

Kylie set social media alight as she posted a photo of her newest swimsuit, which appeared to show her nipples.

The 24-year-old was wearing a nude-coloured, triangle bikini top and a pair of black sunglasses in the Instagram post.

The caption reads: "free the nipple."

THE WORLD FAMOUS AGONY

Dear Sam,

EVER since this white van pulled up outside our works, not only am I getting the best bacon sandwiches, but my sausage is getting well and truly cooked.

The woman who runs the van is not really a looker but she's as horny as hell. I get my fill in the morning and then every afternoon tea break she gets her fill.

She serves through a hatch in the side of the van but she lets me in through the back doors when no-one's about and we get down to business.

She never wears panties so is always wet and ready for me to slide into her, and I have to say it doesn't usually take too long for me to finish since she bucks like a frantic mule.

I don't think I'm the only one among the lads porking her but she makes me feel very special when she sucks my cock.

It's been great but now she says she's moving away because she's not getting enough takings. What can I do?

LW, Merseyside

Sam says...

TRY to organise a whip round to persuade her to stay.

Dear Sam,

MY mate caught me having it off with his mum last week. She's 42, blonde, with a cracking body. I'm 18.

My pal had come home early from college when he saw me with my dick up her arse and my fingers in her fanny. He went mental and we had a fight.

It was pretty inconclusive but of course the mum was pretty upset about it all, and I don't think she'll be up for another shagging session anytime soon.

I tried to explain to my pal that if his dad had been doing his duty properly it wouldn't have happened but that only seemed to make him more angry and he threw me out.

The only trouble is that he owes me £500 after he bought my car last month. I've since asked for the money but he just tells me to f**k off. What should I do?

RG, email

Sam says...

I THINK you've had your money's worth, don't you?

Stockings beauty gives me moving experience

Dear Sam,

I WORK for an estate agent taking snaps of properties for ads and brochures. It's not very exciting but it means I get to meet women who tick my boxes.

Recently I was sent to an upmarket apartment, where I was greeted by a stylish woman in her early 50s - about 20 years older than me.

When we sat down in the lounge I caught a glimpse of her stocking tops. It sent my cock rigid and I asked to go to the bathroom to cool down.

Once inside, I found a pair of black stockings and I sniffed them before rubbing one against my cock.

At that moment the client burst in. Far from being outraged, she took my todger in her mouth to give me the blowjob of a lifetime.

Then I shagged her from behind with just her hold-up stockings on.

Now she's decided not to move and wants me to move in with her.

What do you think?
WA, Lincs

Sam says...

IT might take some of the fun out of the sex, but give it a go.

AGONY IS BROUGHT TO YOU IN ASSOCIATION

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice – or experience – than our own Agony Angels! This week SAM TYE has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

I prefer girlfriend's mum over our threesome fun

Dear Sam,

I HAVE been going out with a right stunna for the past couple of months.

At 23 she is two years older than me and is very much more experienced sexually.

Last month she invited me to her home to meet her mother, a widow of 42.

And what a great looker she is – she could have passed for my girl's sister.

She greeted me in a low-cut top and a short tight skirt, and I immediately started to get a stiffy.

As the mum ushered me inside she deliberately brushed her hand against my groin.

We all settled down with some drinks and made small talk for about half an hour or so.

I felt very uncomfortable as I couldn't get rid of my erection.

And every time I looked at the mum she parted her legs to reveal black lacy stocking tops and began winking at me.

But then, to my relief, she said she was going out.

As soon as the front door shut I jumped on my girl and she pulled down her jeans and ripped off her panties.

Without any foreplay, I rammed my throbbing eight-incher into her sopping quim. My girl loves to be taken roughly and she gasped in ecstasy as we writhed on the settee.

Just as I was about to come I heard the lounge door opening.

I looked up to see the mum standing there wearing just a see-through negligee. I could see everything – her weighty boobs, shaven minge, the lot.

Moist

Without a word she pushed her daughter to one side and flipped me on my back.

Too shocked to resist, I felt her guiding my dick between her moist love-lips and soon she was riding me like a bucking bronco. I thought my girl would be furious, but it seems she often shares fellas with her mum.

And that night I took a ride into the wonderful, mysterious pleasures of threesome fun.

The events seem like a blur now, but I do remember certain scenarios.

One saw me lie on my back while my girl rode my throbbing cock and her mum sat on my face and demanded I lick her out.

They both squealed with delight as they orgasmed – her mum's juices leaking all over me as she writhed.

Soon after, I hoisted the mother up onto one of the kitchen cabinets and porked her aching hole as her daughter took both of my balls in her mouth and sucked them gently.

It's fair to say it was the best sexual experience of my life!

Now we have regular threesomes, but I actually prefer the mum. What to do?

GD, email

Sam says...

ENJOY both of them – it won't last forever.

Dear Sam,

MY husband and I have an exciting sex life and he likes me to dress in leather and tie him up from time to time.

I was chatting to my neighbour over a coffee one day when I happened to mention my husband's fetish. We had a good chuckle and thought no more about it.

However, a few days later, I spotted her in the street wearing a leather mini-skirt.

I was a bit suspicious because she's told me in the past she finds my husband attractive.

One evening while my hubby was out I spotted her sneaking into her house with some chains and leather straps. She's shagging him, I thought.

I waited for about 20 minutes and then let myself in.

I could hear muffled sounds coming from the bedroom and it seemed obvious to me what was going on so I burst into the room.

But what a fool I felt. There was my pal dressed in her leather gear with her own husband, starkers with a massive hard-on, neatly trussed up on the bed.

I haven't been able to face them since. What can I do?

HS, Lancs

Sam says...

TAKE them out for a drink. I'm sure you'll all have a good laugh about it – and maybe swap notes.

You've helped me to have best shag ever

Dear Sam,

I RECENTLY bought the Midweek Sport for the first time on the way to work. The boob-packed pages cheered me up on a rainy Wednesday morning.

When I got to the office I was the only one in apart from one of the PAs, a fit redhead in her 20s.

Everyone else had gone on a staff training day. There wasn't a lot to do, so I settled down with my paper.

The PA came and sat next to me and started to read with me. She was wearing a short skirt and lowcut top which showed off her fantastic tits.

I was soon erect and did my best to hide my bulge. But she not only saw it, she complimented me on it.

She placed her hand on my thigh before sliding it slowly towards my rigid dick, rubbing it before undoing my flies and yanking out my throbbing eight-incher.

Expertly, she began sliding her fingers along my shaft and a shudder ran through my body. But she didn't stop there. She leaned over and wrapped her lips over the glistening tip and started sucking.

She was an absolute expert at giving head and had my dick twitching as she sucked me off and squeezed my balls.

Then she got up, slid down her skirt and knickers and sat astride me on the chair. With an experienced hand, she guided my love-sausage into its moist target.

I wasted little time and was soon boning her vigorously while squeezing her lovely boobs. After a few minutes I spunked what felt like gallons of man-milk.

It was the best day at work I have ever had and now we are seeing each other regularly outside the office.

I can't believe my luck – and it's all thanks to you.

KC, south London

HOT 'N' HORNY

MARVELLOUS Millie Fenton has more in common with Kim Kardashian than just sexy curves. Because the gorgeous 32DD model has also starred in her own saucy SEX TAPE.

And while Kim's X-rated on-screen performance helped make her a global superstar, Millie is hoping her blue movie stays out of the public eye.

The blonde beauty, from Biddulph, Staffordshire, said: "I made a naughty movie many years ago with an ex."

"It was really hot, both filming it and watching it back."

"It makes you want round two. It makes you feel like a naughty porn star!"

Millie says she loves indulging in a spot of role play too.

She said: "I love dressing up. I have a kinky maid uniform, which is my favourite."

"You have to drop your feather duster and bend over to pick it up!"

"I've been tied up and blindfolded, that was so hot."

"I love the element of surprise, not knowing what's coming next."

SPECIAL OFFER: ANY 3 PRIVATE SHOPS DVD'S FOR £25 (was £75)

IT'S finally time to say goodbye to the creepy Crawleys of Downton Abbey and hello to the horny hotties of buxom Bottomley Manor!

For all you red-blooded fellas who love your porn but are bored to tears by dull Downton Abbey this is your lucky day.

Released last week, the UK's most highly anticipated adult movie is available exclusively through the Sport's adult partner Private Shops and, for a limited time they're offering readers another £5 OFF the already low, low price.

Down On Abby is a big budget, full length adult masterpiece starring porn legend Ben Dover and a cast of the hottest adult stars around. It will transport you to Bottomley Manor, home to the Lord Grabhem (played by Ben Dover), his wife (and 2014 AVN nominee) Jasmine Jae, and their two young promiscuous step-daughters, Abby and Fanny.

The Grabhems have invited the Stiffies to dinner and their staff, led by butler Smallc*** and footman Master Bates, hurriedly prepare to receive their honoured guests.

But during preparations some members of staff have their own ideas of how to make the night go with a bang! As dinner approaches it seems everyone's got more than fancy nosh on their minds. Mind you, there is plenty of nosh as well as lots of other filth that will even cause a crease in Carson's keks.

We see plenty of R18 DVD's at the Sport but this one is really something special and one you MUST not miss!

This future classic stars Ava Dalush as Missy, Cathy Heaven as Lucy, Emma Leigh as Betty, Jasmine Jae as Lady Wanda Grabhem, Jasmine James as Fanny Grabhem, Jess West as Lady Stiffie, Lexi Lowe as Abby Grabhem, Ben Dover as Lord Will Grabhem, Big Bad Dave as Smithers and Clarke Kent as Master Bates.

NATALIE JAY

HENDON hottie Natalie would stop any bloke in their tracks – and for traffic warden Tim Atkinson, there's no girl quite like her.

Glamour veteran Natalie was picked out by Tim, 54, from Croydon and he says her 34Fs are still the best pair he's ever seen.

Tim said: "Natalie's rack is top notch and I'd love a new snap of her to add to my collection – I've kept all her pictures! "Could you dig out a shot of her in all her glory and print it for me please? She's the best looking girl ever!"

SHOW ME THE HONEY!

ANGELICA BLACK

FARMER Geoff Kingsley requested an X-rated photo of Angelica Black – so we've dug out this tantalising snap.

Geoff, 52, from Goole, wanted to see Angelica starkers and, although we can't do that, we reckon we've got pretty close.

Liverpool babe Angelica stripped for this raunchy shoot that exposed her 34D mammaries.

Geoff said: "Midweek Sport will never let me down. I know you'll do me proud with a hot photo of Angelica. Thanks!"

"I take a stash of her pictures with me when I work away but I could do with a fresh one to add to my pile!"

SPORT STARTS HERE WITH RACING

ASCOT STAR:
Wesley Ward
(left)

Love Reigns is supreme

AMERICAN raider Wesley Ward has not hidden his admiration for LOVE REIGNS and she can win the Queen Mary Stakes.

The daughter of US Navy Flag absolutely blitzed her rivals on her only start to date at Keeneland, in the same colours as Ward's previous Queen Mary winners Lady Aurelia and Campanelle.

Ward also took this with Acapulco and there seems little point in trying to ignore the obvious.

The Queen's Vase is even more of a St Leger trial than it was previously since being cut in distance and there is lots to like about the chance of the lightly-raced Eldar Eldarov.

Option

The Dubawi colt is in the Irish Derby which is a sign of the regard in which he is held by Roger Varian.

There is plenty of stamina in his pedigree as well, with lots to like in how he galloped on strongly at Newcastle – looking better the further he went.

Talk after that run at Gosforth Park was of the King Edward VII Stakes, the Royal Ascot Derby, but this looks the right option.

The Prince of Wales's Stakes

By MIKE FRANCIS

takes centre stage on day two and hopefully a resurgent Sir Michael Stoute will be picking up the trophy with Bay Bridge.

It was a marvellous sight to see one of the game's great names rocket back to the top with Desert Crown in the Derby and in Bay Bridge he has another high-class performer on his hands.

This has been more of a Stoute project, though, with the four-year-old progressing from handicaps to Group company last time out, where he absolutely oozed class in the Brigadier Gerard.

This is tougher again, with solid Group One horses in opposition, including Japanese raider Shahryar, who is feared. But so good was Bay Bridge at Sandown that he should take the beating in a race Stoute has won twice in the last four years.

The Duke of Cambridge Stakes has an open look to it, with plenty having claims, but it might present a good opportunity for Mother Earth.

Her record is rock-solid at the highest level and it seems only fair to forgive her a disappointing effort in the Lockinge, a run that was most unlike her.

Last year's 1000 Guineas winner is unpenalised in this and it would be no surprise to see her bounce back.

One at a price that could go well in the Hunt Cup is Intelligent.

A Group One winner in his native France back in 2018, he is now with Jane Chapple-Hyam and will be having his third run for her.

The first one came after an absence of over a year at Newmarket, where but for meeting with interference at a crucial point he would surely have won, and he then ran in a four-runner affair over this course and distance.

Four runners there might only have been, but it was a solid quartet and the selection lost little in third, seeing it out well in a race that did not play to his strengths.

Further

The fourth home actually won a Listed race at York the other day and the helter skelter nature of the Hunt Cup looks made for a horse that has won over further.

Bolt Action had jockey David Egan waxing lyrical after his Leicester debut so makes plenty of appeal in the Windsor Castle Stakes, while the lucky last, the Kensington Palace Stakes, can go the way of Farhh To Shy for George Margaron and Tom Queally.

HORROR IN UKRAINE BRINGS MYKOLENKO DOWN TO EARTH

VITALIY Mykolenko has admitted war in Ukraine has made him realise the problems he thought he had were unimportant.

The Everton defender is currently on international duty and was part of the squad against Republic of Ireland in the Polish city of Lodz last night, his country's fourth fixture in 11 days.

However, the aches and pains he has sustained during that run of games – as well as the disappointment of missing out on a trip to the World Cup finals following play-off defeat by Wales – pale into insignificance alongside the plight of his compatriots at home in the wake of Russia's invasion.

Mykolenko said: "I am feeling really good now. If the team was playing in Ukraine, it would be much better.

"It wasn't that difficult a time for me. Before the war, I thought that my problems were the biggest and now I realise they are small problems.

"When the war started, I would only think about my country and my team and do my best."

Safe

Mykolenko, who joined the Toffees from Dynamo Kyiv in January, is in regular contact with his family back at home and it is a source of relief that they are currently safe.

He said: "My parents stay in Kyiv now and we keep in touch with them.

"My friends and relatives are in different places in the country and we try to keep in touch with them, but it is not always possible to make contact with the conditions in the country.

"But I keep in touch with all of them and thank God they are safe now which is the main thing."

Mykolenko is still settling into life on Merseyside, a process which has been made a little easier by Ireland and Everton skipper, defender Seamus Coleman.

Speaking at his pre-match press conference at the LKS Stadium, the 23-year-old revealed the part the now-injured Coleman had played in making him feel at home during his early days in England. Asked about the Irishman, who he shares a Goodson dressing room with, he said: "I will tell a short history.

"On December 31, I met this person on the first day of training.

"New Year's Eve is for all Ukrainians a really great celebration.

"I was alone in the hotel and he wrote to me a message, 'I will always be there for you and if you need some help, just write me and I will be there'."

Swept

"For this whole five months, he has always helped me and was there for me. He is a great person and a great captain."

Ukraine boss Oleksandr Petrakov has had to deal with a bug which has swept through the camp and also has doubts over Roman Yaremchuk and Eduard Sobol who are nursing slight knocks.

Future's bright for Ireland says Mac

By ALAN REED

JAMES McClean is excited by the prospect of a new generation of Republic of Ireland players taking the national team to greater heights.

At 33, McClean thinks the younger members of the squad have to step up.

Asked how excited he was by what he has seen from the likes of Gavin Bazunu, Caoimhin Kelleher, Nathan Collins, Andrew Omobamidele, Jayson Molumby, Troy Parrott, Adam Idah and Michael Obafemi, McClean said: "It's very exciting.

"Obviously they are showing the ability and potential that they have.

"The more experience you get at this level, the more their ability will be enhanced.

"I think the future is bright, which is obviously a nice thing, and I think you saw it last Saturday – Nathan Collins at the back, the shift Jay Molumby put in in the middle of the park, and if you look at the second and third goals, you can see what Troy and Michael can do.

"It is obviously very pleasing. It is just nice to be here and see that day in day out and see potentially what they could go on to be."

Those performances came in Saturday's 3-0 Nations League win over Scotland in Dublin, a result which finally ended Ireland's wait for a first victory in the competition but more, provided vindication of manager Stephen Kenny's drive to promote from the Under-21s ranks.

McClean made his debut as a substitute in a friendly against the Czech Republic in February 2012, but insists every cap he has earned since has been as meaningful as the first.

He said: "Every cap is special no matter what age you are. That's the way it has always been for me anyway. You are representing your country, putting on the shirt. It is a special feeling."

WE'VE SCOT TO BOUNCE BACK

STEVE Clarke admits Scotland's dispiriting Nations League defeat by Republic of Ireland was "a little bit of a head scratcher" as he tries to lift the mood.

The Tartan Army had hoped the 2-0 home win over Tuesday's opponents in their opening Group B1 game had got Scotland back on track following their World Cup play-off loss to Ukraine, but it was a comfortable 3-0 win for the Irish on Saturday.

When facing the press, Clarke initially responded to a question about Scotland's performance in Dublin by saying: "Ireland played better on the day."

And when asked later why the performance had gone backwards from the Armenia game, he said: "The million dollar question, I don't know."

"Football is a strange game at times."

"Sometime you get a result that you don't really expect."

"Probably the reaction to the game on Saturday is as much a case of, 'where did that come from?'"

"It was a little bit of a head scratcher."

"Obviously disappointing on Saturday. We will focus on the future now."

"As we always do we will get together as a group, speak about things, show some things on video and try to get them on the training pitch and moving so it doesn't happen again."

The former West Brom and Kilmarnock boss was also questioned about the criticism he and his team received after the defeat in Dublin and against Ukraine.

He said: "People can write and say what they want. There is nothing I can do to control that, the most important thing is what we do next."

Some pundits are not keen on the Europa League but Clarke says all games matter.

He said: "There is pressure on every game in football when you are representing your country. There is pressure in every game in football."

"It is always nice when you win. Everyone always feels a little bit better when you win."

Meanwhile, Kerr McInroy will join Kilmarnock at the end of his contract with Celtic, pending Scottish FA approval.

The 21-year-old midfielder has signed a two-year deal and becomes Killie's second signing of the summer window following the recruitment of Alan Power.

McInroy impressed during loan spells with Airdrieonians and Ayr United during 2021-22 and said: "I'm delighted to be here and buzzing to get the deal done in time for pre-season starting, so I'm looking forward to getting going with the boys."

"I wanted to go to a club that wanted me and play at the highest level possible."

"I spoke to the manager and he really wanted to get me in so that had a big helping hand in my decision."

FITZY OPEN FOR MAJOR WIN

MATT Fitzpatrick will focus on the positives of his near-miss in the US PGA as he approaches the next major as one of the favourites for the title.

Fitzpatrick played in the last group in the final round at Southern Hills and missed out on the play-off between Justin Thomas and Will Zalatoris by two shots after a costly bogey on the 17th.

The tie for fifth was still Fitzpatrick's best result in a major and his seventh top-10 finish in just 12 events this season, while his 2013 US Amateur victory at Brookline means he returns to Boston for the 122nd US Open with fond memories.

"I've been back a few times since, and love coming back here," Fitzpatrick said. "Obviously, I loved having my family here and having my brother Alex on the bag was really special."

"It's a memory that will live forever. I can't believe it's nine years ago really. It's crazy how fast it's gone."

"I'm just looking forward to it. It's been on my radar for years, ever since I knew it was obviously coming here."

"I'm staying with the family I stayed with when I played the Amateur here and my parents are here, as well, so I'm just really excited for the week more than anything."

"If I look back at my game nine years ago, I would say I'm the same player but a very different player. My strengths are still my strengths, but they've just got better in my opinion."

"Looking at what I've achieved, I think sometimes maybe I don't give myself enough credit for what I have done, but I'm always trying to get better, I'm always trying to do things better and find ways I can improve."

Fitzpatrick makes detailed notes of every shot he hits on the course, but has not had time to look back in detail on Southern Hills due to a busy schedule.

"I've still not really had a chance to do a full reflection. I was home for a few days and then left to go to a wedding and then this is my third week competing in a row."

"It was disappointing at first when you come off the course and the realization that you had a chance to win and you've not taken it."

"But I was actually more angry about my finish in 2021 when I tripled the 17th at Kiawah than I was the way I finished a few weeks ago."

TELLY BAN: Southgate

Southgate rules out Netflix for England

GARETH Southgate says a prospective World Cup documentary focusing on players' partners and loved ones is not his "cup of tea" as the England manager called the term WAG "disrespectful".

Reports emerged over the weekend that some players' partners had been approached to be part of a Netflix docu-series about their lives that would see them followed during the tournament in Qatar.

It is not an idea that sits well with England boss Southgate, whose World Cup preparations have continued with a round of Nations League games with mixed results.

"Well, that's not my cup of tea, really," he said when asked about the proposed documentary.

"I'd be surprised if the group of players we've got would have an interest in that because they've wanted to focus on their football."

Families

"The focus in Russia and last summer was all about the players and everything that they do."

"We've never had any issues with anything else."

"We like to involve the families."

We think it's important that the players' partners...I actually think the term 'WAGs' is quite disrespectful.

"It's their partners and family, so I don't like the term."

"But we want them to feel welcome, we invited them into the hotel when we could in Russia at the World Cup – mums, dads and kids."

"It's a great feeling when you've the kids in especially, it changes the dynamic of the hotel."

"We couldn't do that last year because of Covid which cut things down a lot for everybody."

"It's one big family around the England team so I think everybody recognises that part of what we do has been very good over the last couple of years."

'I DON'T FEEL ANY PRESSURE' BOO

SCORING IS MY BIG GOAL

Captain Kane keen on hitting the target more for club and country

ENGLAND captain says he doesn't feel the weight of carrying the Three Lions on his shoulders.

Kane reached a half-century of senior international goals as his late penalty salvaged a 1-1 draw against Germany last week.

It was the only goal England have managed in their first three Nations League fixtures this month during a disappointing time for Gareth Southgate's squad.

The Three Lions manager said after the goalless stalemate with Italy on Saturday that he was "concerned" by the reliance on both Kane and Raheem Sterling to score the goals for England.

Asked if he enjoys the pressure of being the player everyone expects to score, Kane replied: "As a striker you have that expectation of yourself and the team have it on you to produce as well."

"I enjoy scoring goals and winning games."

"That's the most important thing. I always try to do my best to help the team in every aspect, whether it's scoring, assists, defending, set-plays."

"There's no pressure from the other players in terms of making me feel nervous about scoring."

"We all know our responsibilities and our jobs and I try to take that responsibility as one of the experienced players. I just enjoy scoring goals."

The Tottenham striker also backed his team-mates to get back among the goals.

"If you look over the last two or three years, we've definitely had goals in different areas in terms of set-plays, defenders getting goals, midfielders picking up goals," he said.

"But I think in any team, any top team, you're going to have a main striker who gets the majority of the goals, a main attacking winger who's going to get some goals."

"I'm sure every lad who puts on an England shirt wants to go out and score and get assists and affect the game."

Runners

"So I guess the most important thing is the mentality, to have that hunger to go and get those goals and that's kind of what I speak to my team-mates about – getting in the box, the back post, midfield runners getting in there, that's really important."

Kane points out that England have done well in the last two major finals with a semi in the World Cup before their defeat against Italy only on penalties in the Euros.

"I think going into major tournament football, we've done that pretty well."

"But look, we're still learning, still improving, the boys are eager to score as many goals as possible and help the team out."

Kane's goals at club level have seen him win the Premier League golden boot on three different occasions.

His position as one of the deadliest finishers in the division could come under threat following Manchester City's signing of Erling Haaland and the seemingly-imminent arrival of Darwin Nunez at Liverpool.

"The battle for the Golden Boot's always tough," he added.

"The Premier League has produced top strikers from around the world for a number of years now. Every

PRAYING FOR GOALS: Harry Kane says he'll keep banging them in season I've been playing it's always been a tough battle to win that Golden Boot and you expect the top strikers to want to play in the Premier League.

"It shows with those two signings that's going to be the case. It helps, it helps me as a player to have good competition and hopefully to improve and get better, so for sure, I look forward to the challenge."

Lionesses

"I try to focus on myself to begin with. Going into any season, I have things I want to achieve and goals I want to reach and I try not to focus on other players too much in that aspect of things."

The England men's players have been speaking to the Lionesses squad to try and pass on a few tips before next month's Euros.

Lucy Bronze has spoken of England Women's hopes of making the most of being hosts, with the team having talked with the men's side about last summer.

The last couple of weeks have seen both the Lionesses and their male counterparts – Euros runners-up a year ago after defeat on penalties to Italy at Wembley – spending time in camp at St George's Park.

England Women are seeking glory on home soil this summer after going as far as the semi-finals at their last three major tournaments.

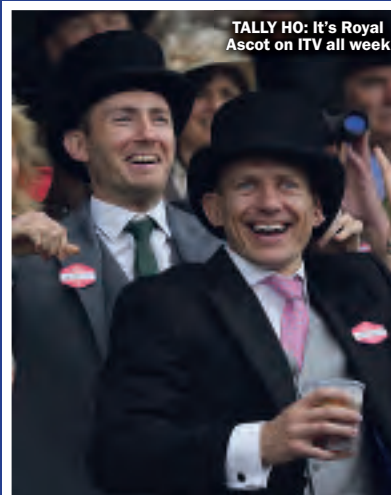

And Bronze said, when asked about the pressure of the tournament ahead, for which each of England's group games and the Wembley final is sold out: "I think the best and biggest players want to play with that, want to play in those games, with the full crowds."

"And I think we're trying to see it as just a lot of support. It's our 12th man, hopefully."

REDS TO ROB LEW

United ready to pounce for Bayern hitman

MANCHESTER United are ready to nick Robert Lewandowski from under the nose of Barcelona.

The Bayern Munich legend has made it clear he wants to join the Catalans this summer. Despite being 33, United boss Erik Ten Hag would love to have a proven goal scoring force in his squad.

By JOHN ANTHONY

And at the first sign of the Barcelona move not happening, the Reds will pounce with a megabucks deal.

There are money worries at the Nou Camp and they are under pressure to offload some high earners before they can bring Lewandowski to the club.

The Pole has one year left on his deal with Bayern and the Germans want a £20m fee to release him.

That is peanuts to United who could also blow any wages offer Barcelona make out of the water.

Lewandowski remains one of the hottest strikers on the planet. Despite his veteran status, he banged in an amazing 57 goals in 55 games last season.

Wages of £400,000 a week would not be a problem for the Red Devils who need more firepower.

United could scupper their own hopes if they sign Frenkie De Jong from Barca for around £80m – as they could then afford Lewandowski.
